Introduction

The Composite Chart

One and one make more than two, and when two people get together a third party emerges: the couple. As a couple, a team, a dynamic duo, you both become part of something larger that can give you greater power and potential than either has alone. As the two of you become one, a totally new horoscope emerges, called the composite chart, which describes what you have become by linking up, what your special, mutual universe looks like from inside and out. It may be very different than either of you alone, or it may just reinforce you both, but it is what you are together, so embrace it. When you move to a new location, you modify that chart, and your image together and what you can do with it may change significantly. As with your individual charts, you have an inside that doesn't change with a move and an outside that changes with locality. To see if you have the best possible fit in this new place, here's a look at both.

A composite chart shows the midpoints between two charts' planet positions. Horizons uses a new method to allow the relocation of a composite chart. The composite planet positions are placed into the chart of the first person in the composite pair.

Angles in Signs

Ascendant in Sagittarius

You can be warm and casual here, open and friendly, and leading with a laugh. You'll always seem truthful, but you'll have to be what you seem in order to take long run advantage. Privacy here is thus harder to maintain, but also less necessary. You make up for in enthusiasm what you may miss in the details, and an open hand invites generosity as well as giving it.

Midheaven in Virgo

A reputation here for being careful and right on the mark will allow you considerable leeway in person to speculate and root around for the truth. When you can rest on your laurels, you can open up more and explore the environment without having to be proving yourselves all the time. Get it right, take it easy....

Planets on Angles

Any planet on one of the angles (Ascendant, MC, Descendant, IC) of your relocation chart will be greatly strengthened when you are at the place of relocation, very much like if it were on the angles of your natal chart. If the Sun is on an angle, you'll have more confidence; if Mars is there you'll have more energy, and so on. Moreover, you don't have to actually go there to get the effect. Having a planet on a relocated angle will accentuate that place for you even if you are only doing business with people there over the phone. You have an accentuated quality to people in such places that you may not have elsewhere.

Composite Mercury Sqr AS (Strong)

Talk and action can get in each other's way when you get under way together, and it can be easy to step on each other's toes in an attempt to make yourselves perfectly clear. If you don't get it right on the first couple of tries, move on to the next subject, as throwing good words after bad wastes everybody's time.

Mercury in Ninth House

Together you can find your heads in the clouds here, but when you come back down to earth you'll bring a little bit of the sky with you. By opening your heads to major new approaches, you put yourselves on an unforeseen track that may be hard to write home about. How are you going to find the words? But then, that's the point.

Composite Venus Sxt AS (Strong)

Accessorizing yourselves is what it's all about here, and you can do that physically or by the company you keep. The trick is to do it effortlessly, without any attempt to impress, as it all falls into place. What one lacks, the other picks up on without skipping a beat, from one play to the next.

Venus in Tenth House

This is a good place to go to collect your medals, or earn them. Your mutual admiration society will find lots of new members, and you'll generally enjoy a reputation from people making positive assumptions about you without even doing a reality check. A good place for good press and all that you can mine from that.

Composite Moon Sqr MC (Strong)

Putting your feelings on display in the marketplace is probably not a good idea here. Letting it all hang out may not be a hanging offense, but it certainly could work against you, and the more you contradict what's being said about you, the more people will believe the opposite. If it belongs indoors, keep it there.

Moon in Seventh House

Partnering -- individually with each other and together with others -- takes on a primary focus here. You won't want to be on a solo trip, and letting someone else take the reins equally will be a life lesson you find here. That can involve a learning curve, so be open to change and listen to new opinions.

Composite Pluto Sxt IC (Medium)

Power comes not out of the barrel of a gun, but from not knowing who's packing one. You act like you've got hidden support here, and as a result, you're treated as if you do. That may be only a derringer you're hiding, but it could be a nuke, for all anybody knows. If you look confident, your smile is all that's necessary.

Pluto in Second House

Using money and possessions as a power play -- both on your part and on others' -- is endemic to these surroundings, so be careful. Disputes about very concrete matters whose solutions should be obvious can become a point of contention without your expecting it. If it means giving a little extra, let it go.

Composite Mars Sqr AS (Medium)

Finding out where to focus your energies together here may be something of a challenge, and it may take several tries and more spent fuel than you anticipated to get on the right physical track. Starts and stops can be tiring, so try to be sure of a clear road ahead before you pack your bags and commit to a journey, before or after you get there.

Mars in Ninth House

You may find yourselves striving to carve out a space here in a big way. Small moves won't inspire you, even though they are necessary, but the big push will set you on fire. So, you're best off whipping the general operations into shape and letting others clean up the details when you've got it all going.

Composite Neptune Sqr DS (Medium)

You can find yourselves giving and receiving confusing or mixed messages here, so actually doing what you say you do and what others think you do can be a challenge. It's all about focus, and that's hard to achieve sometimes when you're fishing around for a direction, maybe several overlapping ones at the same time.

Neptune in Third House

Sending out good intentions to everybody may be one of the things you do best together here, though you may find it hard to get down to specifics when you're trying to get your message across. If you want to rely on it, write it down, as memory may not serve you well when it comes to remembering exactly what you said.

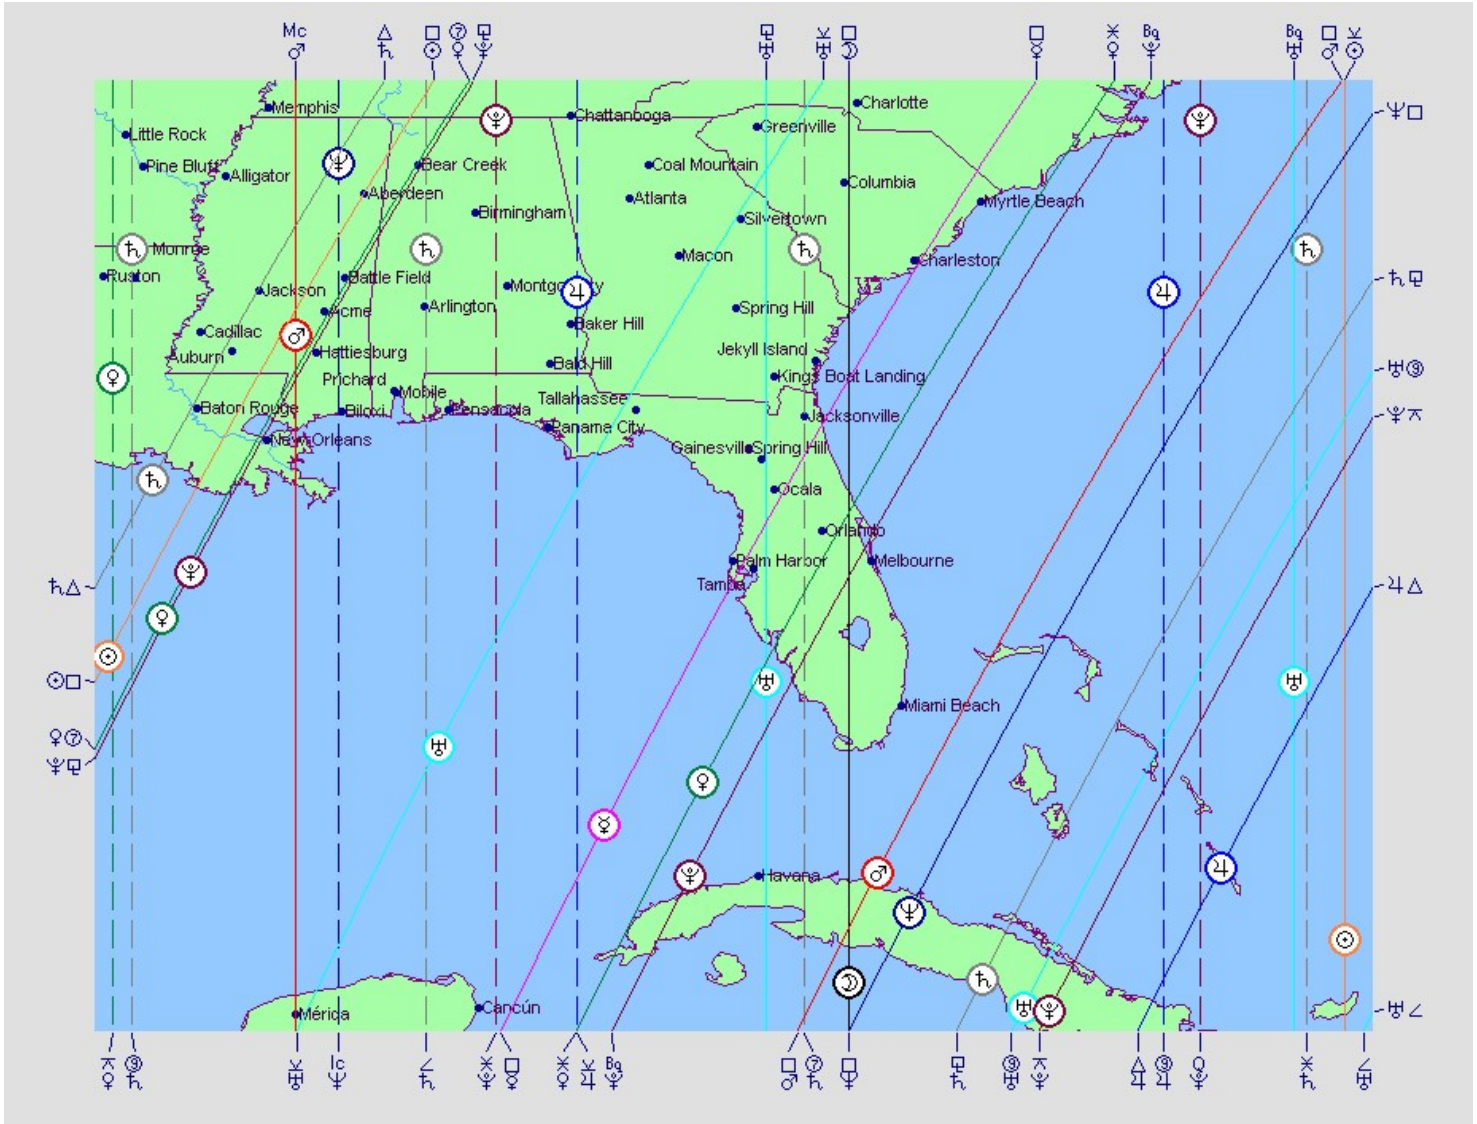

Composite Neptune On IC (Mild)

You may spend a lot of time chasing your dream house here, and you'll surely have a somewhat idealized version of where you're really at. Home is where the heart is, or at least where the spirit dwells, so whatever blesses you becomes your true abode, whatever shape it comes in.

Composite Mars On MC (Mild)

Everyone will hear about what you do here, so it can be a great place for career efforts and making your professional mark together. Remember at the same time, you'll be scrutinized accordingly and hiding your actions will not be easy nor go without a report. You're playing in public, so make the show worth the price of admission.
